our nation's politics? Can we make an overdue change? Do we have the courage to make a total revamp of our nation's trappings? Do we have the strength collectively to bring this country up from the bleakness that it is in?

Modern citizenship rights derived from the nation-state include civil rights (free speech and movement, rule of law), political rights (voting, seeking electoral office) and social rights (welfare, employment insurance and health care). The exact combination between rights and obligations is different from state to state, but a modern democratic state is expected to combine the duties and rights. Yet the questions remain on whether or not a balance of these are practiced and if we, the citizens, are making sure that the ideals of democracy are not only in our minds but implemented in our very actions as citizens.

members resigned. He also accused the NORECO Board of being biased in favor of Salma vowing that Tam's camp will contest any attempt to allow Salma to stay in a hold-over capacity.

Based on the constitution and by-laws of the electric cooperative, if a scheduled election for the board has been cancelled it must be reset within the next 20 days or on March 14.

the Arroyo government. Meanwhile, the Silliman University administration and the Silliman University Student Government clarified that the statement issued by the so-called Youth DARE-SU Chapter calling for the ouster of President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo due to widespread corruption, has no imprimatur of either bodies.

"As far as my office is concerned, this group is non-existent," emphasized Jojo Antonio, Head of the University's Student Organizations and Activities.

Silliman University Student Government President Lycar Flores said that she hasn't heard of that such an organization has been formed but she is sure that its statement is not sanctioned by the proper student body.
